QCNA sponsor wins prestigious business excellence award

Montreal, June 21, 2012 - The West Island of Montreal Chamber of Commerce (WIMCC) presented its Accolades 2012 awards last week awarding QCNA sponsor Digital Locksmiths as an innovator in the Small Business Under Five Employees category.

“When you’re constantly heads down trying to make things “GO” as they say, it’s easy to forget the contributions or successes you’re actually making in other peoples’ lives or companies,” said Terry Cutler, the Chief Technology Officer of Digital Locksmiths, a Montreal based leader in the holistic application of security services for government, private sector, and healthcare clients.

The annual WIMCC award is given to a company of five employees or less demonstrating a significant progress in revenue growth, job creations, realized investments, market share, new product, and innovative marketing.

“These little success clues all add up, and when you suddenly get chosen to be a finalist and a winner, you really sit back in awe and reflect on your progress,” said Cutler.

Digital Locksmiths joined the QCNA list of sponsors in May of 2012, providing technical and financial support at various events. As a consultant, Digital Locksmiths has proven invaluable in its service to QCNA members, offering technological advice and insight into everyday system security concerns.
